*Opening and Closing Sessions: This is time when your student is required to log in to a Zoom video conference for live instruction. Live teacher led instruction (also called Synchronous Instruction) is a block of time with assignments and activities intended to be completed during the Opening and Closing Sessions.

Independent student worktime (also called Asynchronous Instruction) is time for students to complete assignments or activities selected by your teacher. These can be assignments not completed during live Zoom sessions or assignments intended to be completed during independent student work time-much like homework.

Students - Tri-Tech teachers will work to accommodate missed instructional time due to sending school schedule conflicts.
